Humboldt county owes $77,372 86, and only $14,804 07, in the treasury to pay it with. We do not know whether the money due Washoe is counted in that indebtedness, but must say that whether it is or not the chances of Washoe getting her money in coin are very slim. When we gain the suit we will no doubt have to take depreciated scrip in payment for what we advanced in gold coin. Even this is not bad enough, but Washoe must stand the costs of the suit to get the scrip. Storey did the correct thing in the Harrington case, by promptly paying every dollar Washoe had advanced. The attention of Humboldt is directed to this example.

The custom of speculating who will be the respective candidates for President at the next election is a very prevalent one. First this one is spoken of, the next, who in turn is dropped for a third, and so it goes Grant, Blaine, Cookling, Bayard and Thurman, are just now among the most prominent names mentioned. All this is innocent amusement, but it seldom amounts to much, for the Great Unknown generally comes in at the last minute and secures the nomination. It is likely that the candidates of both parties have not yet been named.

Assemblyman Melarkey, of Humboldt has been hung in effigy in Winnemucca, for voting against the Chinese resolution recently introduced in the Legislature. Melarkey was the only one who voted against the measure in the Assembly. Of course his constituents are furious at his action and hung him in effigy. While we will not enter into a discussion as to the correctness of the proceedings, the thought will come up, "Wonder how many of those who participated in the effigy business owe their China washerman for last week's clean clothes."

That relic of barbarism, duelling, is fast dying out. Occasionally a duel may be fought with such a prominent man as Gambetta as a participant, and even Paul de Cassagnac may make a reputation because of his exploits in killing his fellow upon the "field of honor," yet despite all this the custom is dying out and may yet become a thing of the past. The United States has enacted strong laws against it, and has incorporated an oath against it in the "iron clad oath" itself.

Another white girl has married a Chinaman—this time in Boston. It's all right. If the girl has no higher ambition, for if no white man would have her, there need be no pity wasted. She is welcome to the Mongolian. One thing is sure, she will have no occasions to be jealous of the other girls.

The slowness of the English to adopt improvements from abroad is remarkable, and is born of that provincialism which arrogates to itself the ability to do everything better than the rest of the world. Sometimes English manufacturers will move however. A firm recently abandoned the design of the old-fashioned traditional sort of ax, and adopted the American ax. A specimen of the new ax was sent to Mr. Gladstone, from whom the inevitable card was received, acknowledging its receipt and praising its qualities. The firm now do a good business with what has been called the "Gladstone ax," orders coming in from twenty to thirty dozens at a time.

It is rumored that Germany, which declined to exhibit at Paris, is seriously thinking of an International Exhibition at Berlin for the year 1881. A number of German engineers have been studying all the arrangements made at Paris for the conveyance of goods to and from the Camp de Mars, and the railroad traffic.

MORTALITY AT WASHINGTON

Four members of the House of Representatives have died at the national capital within as many weeks.

Beverly Douglas, of Virginia, and Alpheus Williams, of Michigan, died in December, and Mr. Hartridge, of Georgia, and Mr. Schleicher, of Texas, have died in January.

Douglas died from inflammation of the bowels, Williams from cerebral effusion, Schleicher from erysipelas, and Hartridge's as reported, from pneumonia.

Hartridge's case was at first stated as one that might have been dependent upon some exceedingly active intestinal irritation, but the physicians' statement of the cause of death must be regarded as removing the ground for theories that might have been based on that view.

All these deaths, therefore, were due to inflammatory processes dependent upon different causes, and cannot be grouped together as the basis of a charge on the condition of the hotels, like the famous National Hotel cases in Buchanan's time.

An unsalubrious place of residence predisposes undoubtedly to the occurrence of inflammatory diseases, and to their fatality when they occur, and in that respect the city on the Potomac is bad enough.

Perhaps the one element in common in all these cases was the incapacity of the victims to resist the strike of ordinary disease.

Bad hours, bad diet, bad habits generally, and exaggerated activities are the common causes that in Washington undermine men's strength and prepare them to become the easy victims of any malady.

One indication of the hard times in Europe is said the increasing number of people in Berlin who live in cells. The number of persons in London, according to the London Times, who live in third stories increased between 1861 and 1871 8 1/2 per cent. of the population.

There has also been a noticeable increase in the number of houses which have no rooms with a stove or fire.

SWEDEN has a ruler whose example might be profitably followed in other countries. He stopped a run on a Stockholm bank, and perhaps averted a serious panic, by opening a heavy private account with the institution whose solvency was called in question.

There is no danger of such king as that being shot at by a wandering Socialist just at present.

A SINGULAR project is on foot at Paris. M. Camille Flammarion, having published a number of articles to prove that the moon is not destitute of inhabitants, has been led to the idea of constructing a refracting telescope which will be powerful enough to see them.

He is now busy organizing a committee to collect the necessary funds.

Bills Before the Legislature.

The following bill has been introduced and is now pending before the Legislature in session at Carson:

[Assembly Bill No. 12]

Beg to inform the Smoking Public that they are the only manufacturers of Cigars who use at present only 1875 Havana Fillers and 1876 Pennsylvania Wrappers, the latter is grown from Havana seed. Both of above mentioned crops are much superior to anything grown since then and Messrs. L. B. & Co. had the forethought and capital to lay in a sufficient supply to last them until the '77 crops will be sufficiently cured to be worked to advantage, as the latter crop is now it is entirely unfit to be worked for at least 3 months to come as it tastes bitter, cools some what and has a copper color.
